Mrs. Langtry says the sons of rich men make her tired, and on this ground refused to dine with John W. Mackay Jr.

The last number of Chic is very readable. The new Bohemia club song is published in it, and it is a rare piece of music.

S. P. Warren, formerly of the Mountain Queen Mine, is now in London trying to sell that mine. He asks $1,300,000 for the property.

A curious explosion took place yesterday in New Orleans in which two persons were killed. It is supposed to be the work of the Italian Mafia.

There was a big poker game going on in town last night in which one of the players is said to have won between $1,700 and $2,000. Truckee Republican.

Edmund Webster, Post Paymaster of the U. S. Navy, who married Stella Gates of this city, has been fully exonerated of the charge of taking $2500 from a Vallega widow.

The County has had the road machine at work on the roads. The machine does good work, but the roads should be gone over with a roller to finish the work in proper shape.

Harrison again has aspirations for the Presidency. He will always feel disgusted to think Cleveland was elected after being once beaten, and he wants to try and do the same trick.

Walters, the 17-year old boy who on Tuesday killed one youth and wounded another near Galena, Kan., was found hanging to a tree near that place yesterday. He had been lynched.

A newspaper man in San Francisco who was detailed to report Gov. Budd first forwarded $100 he had borrowed of him previously and then proceeded to place his excellency on the grid-iron.

The report of special correspondent Irvine on the Mint shortage will appear in the Examiner that comes up today, and its appearance is looked for with interest by the people of Carson.

A new daily paper has filed articles of incorporation in Fresno. The paper will be Democratic and will be published in the afternoon. Five per cent of the $100,000 capital stock has been subscribed.

The Virginia people are delighted with the Smith-Lick trip, which will appear here next week. It is a sure thing that a good troop always pays in this county, and the people know good times when they see them.

A Frenchman has discovered a scientific method of absolutely determining who ones parents are outside the usual evidence of marriage certificates, which evidence in Paris now is considered a back number proposition.

The Weiland Saloon.

Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit." 111

When she was a Child,
She cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss,
She clung to Castoria.

She gave them Castoria.

WILDE LOSES.

Benton in his Suit and Arrested for an Infamous Crime.

London, April 5. The jury in the case of Oscar Wilde against the Marquis of Queensberry found the "lea of justification, submitted by the Marquis was proved, and he was discharged from custody. The verdict was received with loud applause which the Judge did not check. A warrant for the arrest of Wilde, it is expected, will be promptly applied for. Copies of all witnesses' statements and the short hand notes of the trial have been furnished the public prosecution.

Later—Oscar Wilde has since been arrested at the Cadogan Hotel.

Edward Carson, Q. C., leading counsel for defense, made a terrible denunciation of Oscar Wilde in court this morning. Sir Edward Clarke and other counsel for Wilde left the court room and consulted with their client. Returning they asked to withdraw the suit and on Wilde's behalf to submit to the Marquis: "Not guilty." The Judge instructed the jury as to the verdict rendered. Officials of the Treasury Department, under which public prosecutions are directed, visited the Bow street police station several times this afternoon, accompanied at the last visit by a detective and two boys. The magistrate questioned the boys and then issued a warrant for Wilde's arrest.

The Wright Case.

In the case of John M. Wright and S. C. Wright appellants, vs. Carson Water Company, a corporation, respondent on appeal the Supreme Court holds that it has no power to review its own judgment in the same case, except upon petition for rehearing. Such are the decisions of more than two hundred cases decided in more than thirty States of the Union and in the Federal Courts, and the Supreme Court of the United States. From these rules and upon these authorities the Court is of the opinion that the judgment of the District Court should be affirmed. The Court however, does not desire to convey the idea of an implied approval of the former decision and states that judgment on the appeal is based alone upon the ground of res judicata.

The opinion is by Bonwillard J., Hildlow C. J., and Belknap J., concurring.

Railroad Work at Cape Horn.

The Coffey Sentinel states that a massive granite retaining wall is being built at Cape Horn bridge by the railroad company. The bridge of 120 feet span will be removed after the chasm below is filled with rock. More than 200 carloads of granite will be used in the construction of the work of masonry, which will be produced from the quarry at Rocklin. Cape Horn is only one of the beautiful features in mountain scenery that abound near Coffey. The walls are almost perpendicular, while above the rounded massive rocks rise over 100 feet. The engineering feat of scaling Cape Horn was once considered almost impossible, but it was successfully accomplished at a height of 1150 feet above the river beneath by means of a grade of 65 feet to the mile, although the grade becomes greater a short distance above the Horn.

Klein's Crematory.

Jacob Klein, who is a man of advanced ideas, is now arranging to build a crematory furnace in this city to incinerate the dead. He will begin operations in about two months and form a regular company. This method of burial is fast becoming popular all over the country, and wherever a stock company has been formed to handle the business, it has made money. There are many leading influential citizens in Carson who will take stock in such a company.

The Enterprise and the Gazette are quarrelling over the name of the Silver party of Nevada. In their blind zeal to serve the gold bugs of the East, they are oblivious to the fact that the good times now dawning and acknowledged by everyone are the immediate result of the objection carried on for two years by the Silver men of the West. We care not what you call us: Silver men, Cooks, Bimetallists, Populists, etc., etc. We claim only results and the result of the silver agitation to date is something to be proud of. The additions to the ranks of our party go hand in hand with the rise in the white metal.

Dr. Hogan, the Washoe watch dog of the Treasury, who knows a great deal about the corruption of the Senate in the county division bill of 1871, has not as yet accepted the APPEAL's invitation to expose the facts. It seems odd that the doctor, who is so anxious to expose corruption, is so backward in this case.

Silver First, Ambition Afterwards

Washington, April 4.—Senator Stewart of Nevada dropped into the city today and was asked the cause of the increase in the price of silver.

"This advance in silver bullion," said he, "is not to the advantage of mine owners, and is only temporary and affects bullion already mined. Owners of silver mines are not opening new works because of the hostility of the administration towards the white metal. The next presidential contest will be fought on the financial question, and the issue will be gold or silver. Bimetallists do not look for any assistance from either Republican or Democratic parties since both have so many other questions to deal with. Sincere advocates of silver do not intend to divide their strength but concentrate their efforts to elect Sibley of Pennsylvania to the Presidency. He is better qualified to lead the silver forces than Senator Teller, Mr. Bland, or any of the other men prominently identified with the silver issue. The battle cry will be, silver first, ambition afterward."

Found for the Company.

The case of Titus vs. the Southern Pacific Company for damages caused by plaintiff hurting himself while driving through a culvert under the defendant's railroad was decided yesterday in favor of the defendants.

Judge Hawley instructed the Jury to so find for the defendants. The full text of the opinion will be published to-morrow.

Burned to Death.

A special dispatch from Battle Mountain, Nevada, states that Louis F. Johnson who had lived there for 25 years, was burned to death in his cabin which caught fire by the upsetting of a lamp. He evidently tried to reach the door, but he was overcome by smoke. He kept a hotel in Sacramento in early days.

Will Not Agree Before Saturday.

San Francisco, April 5.—The jury in the case of the strikers Mayne and Cassidy, charged in the United States Court with conspiracy in obstructing the United States mail reported this morning that they would probably be unable to agree before Saturday.

Oscar Wilde will begin to wish he was dead before he gets through with his trial suit. The worst of it is that the very offense with which he is charged is endorsed in his writings, in a veiled and perfumed way, but the gossamer veil of his balanced periods and the perfume of his imagery don't in the slightest degree conceal the reeking muck heap which he describes in "The Picture of Dorian Grey."

The gift of two handsome souvenir spoons presented by the children of the Home to Mr. and Mrs. Grimmon on their retiring from the management was a pretty and appropriate token of appreciation from the children of the institution which was as graceful as it was deserved. The Appeal does not recall a similar incident having taken place in that institution.

Joseph A. Donahue, the aged president of the Donahue-Kelly Bank is dying. The lawyers of San Francisco are rubbing their hands with glee, as he will leave a large estate, and a will which will be sure to be contested.

The Wall Street bankers pocketed their patriotism when they went into Cleveland's bond deal.—Exchange.

We thought the main thing they pocketed was nine million dollars.

A highwayman mounted on a bicycle held up Edward Lavin, a Gilroy farmer, near Hildale. Lavin lost $10 and a gold watch.
